Message from the Chief

1

To the Honorable Mayor Frank Seffrood, members of the City Council, Interim City Manager Ryan Haverlah, and to the citizens of Copperas Cove. The following contains the Copperas Cove Police Department's Annual Report for 2017. The report aims to provide transparency through factual reporting of Department statistics as well as internal operations.

The Department changed faces through several key promotions in support of the overall function of services. Jeffrey Stoddard was promoted to Deputy Chief of the Uniformed Services Division and also serves as the Department Head for Code Compliance. Brian Wyers was promoted to Deputy Chief of the Support Services Division and also serves as the Department Head for Animal Control. Patrol and Criminal Investigations took on new leadership with the promotions of Lieutenant Gabriel Cardona and Lieutenant Jeremy Alber along with several new Corporals and Sergeants. The addition of these new supervisors are significant to our operations as they provide further expertise in serving our citizens.

In 2017, we took a huge step in reconstructing our methodology toward policing by directing focus on a more proactive approach. The City has been separated into smaller areas of responsibility giving the Officer a better sense of ownership in addressing our community needs. This policing model has improved community partnerships and provides for more opportunities to network with our greatest asset; the people. As we will continue to work hard at solving crime, we will work even harder at preventing it.

The Department implemented the Cove Watch Program to complement our new geographic policing strategies. This program is designed to help us expediently communicate important information directly to our citizens. Historically, we have relied on the media to get information out knowing it could take days to deliver. With Cove Watch, vital information is immediately sent to residents via text message and/or email directly from the Department. Currently, more than 1000 residents are enrolled. Signing up is easy and can be done on-line or in person.

Additionally, the Video Surveillance Partnership Program was launched in 2017. Video surveillance systems are becoming commonplace in our communities and they provide a valuable resource for fighting crime. To take advantage of this growing trend, we are partnering with residents and business owners to use these neighborhood video surveillance systems to provide another investigative resource in both solving and preventing crime. This program is another example of how vigilant our citizens are when it comes to standing up against the bad guys.

On behalf of the of the fine men and women of the Copperas Cove Police Department, I would like to thank our elected officials, city management, and the citizens of this community for their past and ongoing support. We stand together in serving this community and look forward to another year of growing on our capabilities in keeping Copperas Cove safe.

Uniform Services Division

The Copperas Cove Police Department is organized into two major divisions; Uniform Services and Support Services. Each Division falls under the command of a Deputy Chief who oversees the operations of various sections. The most visible division is the Uniform Services Division and is led by Deputy Chief Jeff Stoddard. The Uniform Services Division has three major sections, the Uniform Patrol Section, Communications Section, and Code Compliance. Deputy Chief Stoddard also serves as the SWAT Team Commander.

The majority of the certified officers within the Copperas Cove Police Department are assigned to the Uniform Patrol Section of the Uniformed Services Division. The Uniform Patrol Section and the Communications Section work hand in hand to provide quality service to our citizens. The Uniform Patrol Section is divided into three shifts that provide the citizens of Copperas Cove professional police coverage 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

The two subsections of the Uniform Patrol Section are the Traffic Enforcement Section and the School Resource Officers. The Traffic Officers' primary responsibility lies in traffic enforcement, crash investigations, and escorts. The School Resource Officer's duties include reporting and enforcing criminal violations that have a connection to one of our Copperas Cove Independent School District Campuses.

Training & Personnel Section

The Training & Personnel Section is supervised by Sergeant Martin Ruiz and is responsible for the management of all Department training records along with the recruiting and hiring of personnel. Other important duties include the coordination of the Field Training Program and the supervision of police cadets attending the police academy.

A vital component of a peace officers state certification is the administration of state mandated training hours. An officer that falls short of the required training could ultimately lose the ability to serve as a peace officer. This section safeguards these training requirements and allows for our officers to direct their focus on the safety of the community.

The Organized Crime Unit is another key investigative section within the Support Services Division. The unit is comprised of two sergeants and one detective. Their primary duty is the investigation of any organized criminal activity within the city. A large portion of their time centers around narcotics distribution which is commonly linked to other major crimes. Organized crime is commonly a multi-jurisdictional issue which was addressed by assignment of personnel to the Bell County Organized Crime Unit. The multi-jurisdictional unit is comprised of several agencies in Bell County who have partnered with Copperas Cove.

Public information has also proven to be a vital part of the Copperas Cove Police Department mission. It has played a large role in the implementation of the new Cove Watch and Video Surveillance Partners programs to include the upcoming release of the R U OK program in April of 2018. These programs have taken off at a fast pace and the use of our social media platforms has greatly assisted in making that happen.

Community Services Section

Criminal Investigation Section

Lieutenant Jeremy Alber oversees the operation of the Criminal Investigations Section, the Evidence Section, and the Records Section. The largest section in the Support Services Division is the Criminal Investigations Section with one Sergeant, one Corporal, and six Detectives.

The Criminal Investigations Section is responsible for investigating unsolved crimes, apprehension of offenders, and the recovery of stolen property. Detectives are responsible for starting with an offense report and working leads until the crime can be solved.

The Detectives utilize the assistance of outside agency contacts in their crime solving endeavors. Relationships are maintained with entities like the Federal Bureau of Investigations, the United States Secret Service, the United States Marshall's Service, the Department of Family and Protective Services, the Coryell County Crime Victim's Assistance Office, and the Texas Rangers.

Detectives receive advanced training in interview and interrogation techniques as well as specialized training in specific areas of expertise. These skills are used in their respective positions daily in solving crimes and assisting victims.

During 2017, there was one murder reported. The quick work of the Uniformed Services Section along with the Criminal Investigations Section led to an arrest being made in four days. Detectives closed the case after arresting three adults and detaining one juvenile for the murder.

Crime Stoppers

The Criminal Investigation Division works closely with the Copperas Cove Crime Stoppers Program. This program answers the tip line for Crime Stoppers and forwards the important information to investigators to assist with solving various crimes. Additionally, tips may be submitted via the internet at www.tipsubmit.com. A liaison maintains contact with the investigators and forwards any results of the tip to the Board of Directors for a final disposition. Crime Stoppers offers an alternate route for citizens to report crime which has been or is being committed and allows them to remain anonymous in doing so. A civilian Board of Directors manages the day-to-day operations of Crime Stoppers and provides funds which allows rewards of up to $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and indictment on felonies, and more serious misdemeanor cases.

Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR)

The Police Department participates in the Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) program, along with most law enforcement agencies across the country. UCR is a uniform manner of collecting information on crimes on a national basis, identifying crimes by their nature, not by what they are called in each individual state. UCR makes possible the analysis of crime trends primarily through the Crime Index. The Department looks to change to the National Incident-Based Reporting System (NIBRS) in 2018.

To track the variations in crime, the UCR data collection program uses a statistical summary tool referred to as the Crime Index. Rather than collecting reports of all crimes that were committed in a particular year, UCR collects the reports of seven index crimes. The crimes in this group are all serious, either by their very nature or because of the frequency with which they occur, and present a common enforcement problem to police agencies. Arson is an index crime in that the number of reported offenses is collected. Arson is not a part of the Crime Index. The seven Index Crimes are as follows and are listed as they appear on the list of UCR Crime Index lists, with arson being included:

(1) Murder, (2) Rape, (3) Robbery, (4) Aggravated Robbery, (5) Burglary, (6) Larceny, (7) Motor Vehicle Theft, (8) Arson
