Burglary Suspects Arrested

TEXAS – On January 30, 2019, at approximately 04:05 a.m., a Copperas Cove police responded to the 1000 block of Tyler Drive in reference to a vehicle burglary. When officers arrived to the area, they discovered there were several vehicles that had been burglarized. As officers were canvassing the area, they located two suspects who fled on foot. After a brief pursuit the two suspects were apprehended.

The two suspects were identified as Jimmy James Moreno and DeAngelo Trey Reynolds, both reside in Belton, TX. The two suspects were charged with evading arrest and detention, attempted burglary of a habitation, fraudulent use or possession of identifying information over 10 under 50, and 21 counts of burglary of a vehicle. The investigation continues and there is a possibility that additional charges may be filed.
